the Legend

January 1950

Weequahic High School — Frieda Savitz

Newark, N.J.

Foreword

The tears and the laughter, the work and the fun, the hopes and the pride of our high school career are bound together in this book of memories. It is as cherished as the family album, as personal as our diary, and as important to us as a souvenir of our first dance.

On its pages we portray the lighter side of our high school life; but beneath the frivolity there is a seriousness of purpose, a realization of the importance of these years, an expectancy of success in the future.

We are the generation of hope—hope for the restoration of peace to mankind. We are the generation of understanding—understanding gained through knowledge of the complexities of our nature. And we are the generation of incredible power—power granted a shaken world through science. We have an inherited obligation to fulfill the wants of a people starved for peace and security. We have a personal obligation to achieve success as human beings.

With the cautious warnings of our forefathers, with the knowledge and sympathy acquired through education, and with the keen foresight of our leaders, we shall reach these goals.

We toast our future in the modern era:

"Of life immense in passion, pulse,
and power,
Cheerful, for freest action form'd
under the laws divine,
The Modern Man I sing."

Walt Whitman

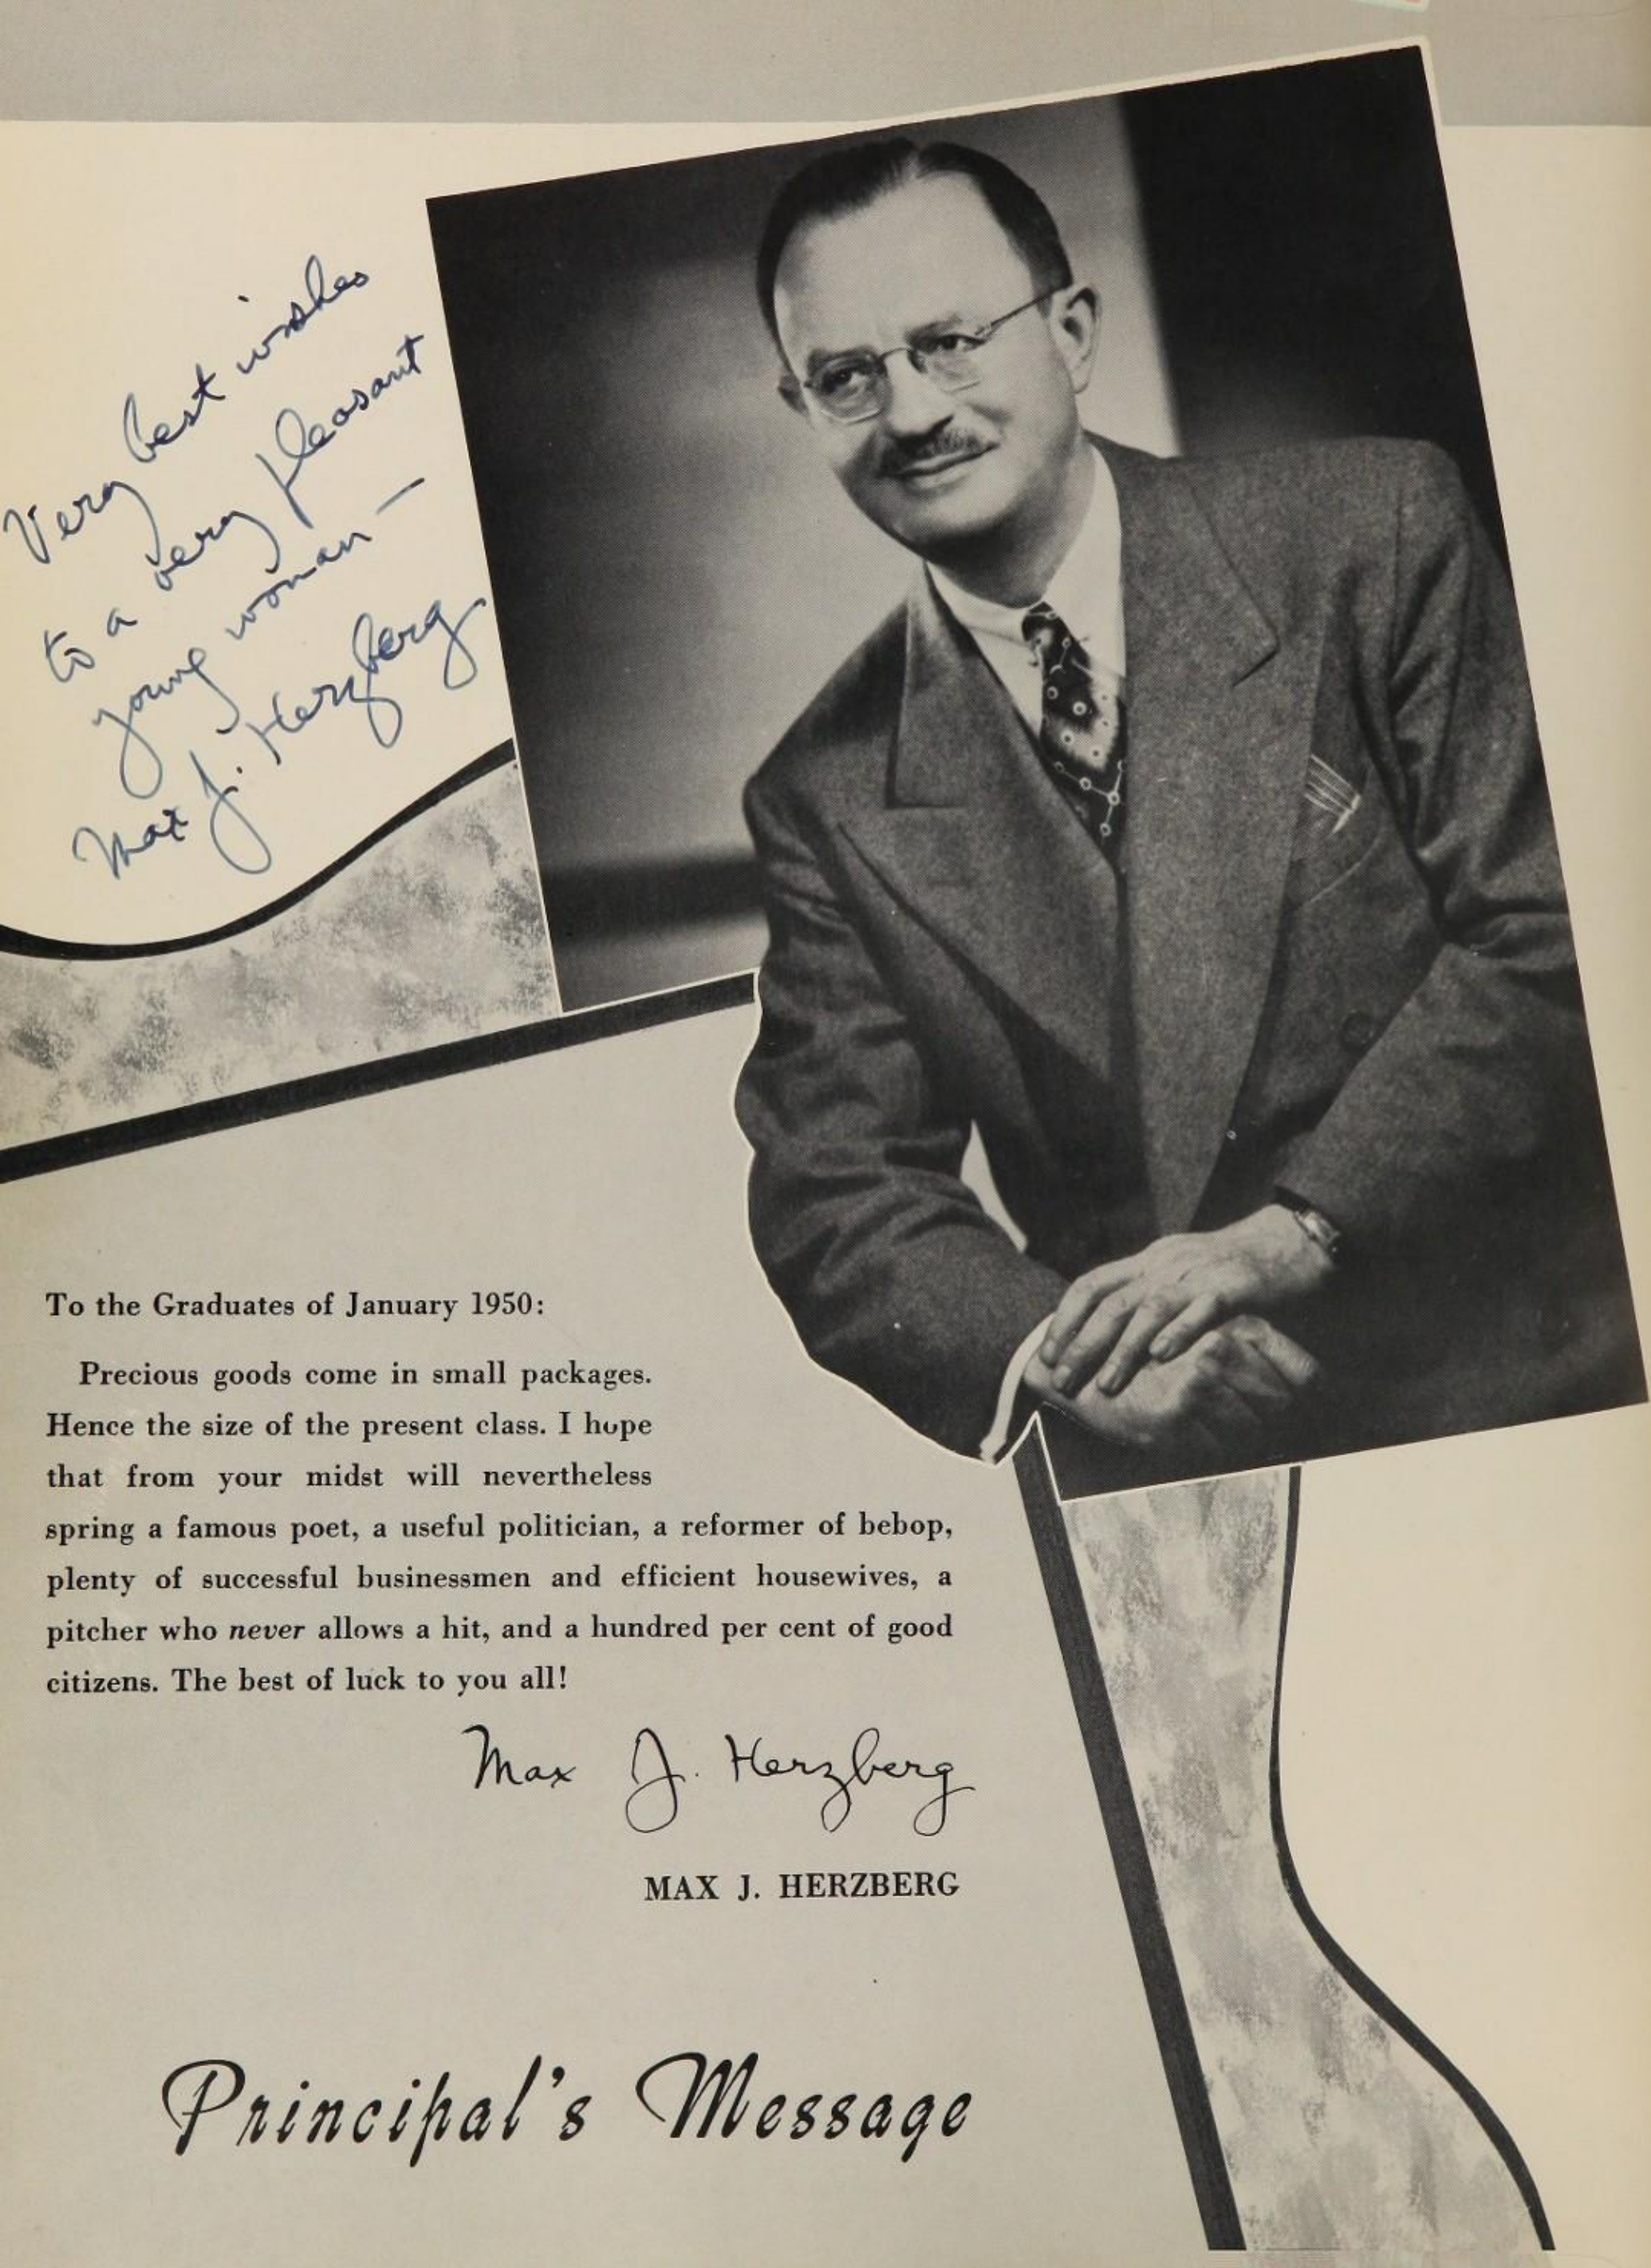
To a sweet girl,
Hilda G. Lutzke

Hilda G. Lutzke

It is with sincere appreciation and affection that the Class of January, 1950, dedicates its book of memories to Mrs. Hilda Lutzke. Her understanding, her sympathy, and her capable guidance have helped to make those memories pleasant. We are proud to have shared our high school years with such an inspiring and true friend, our class adviser.

Dedication



To the Graduates of January 1950:

Precious goods come in small packages. Hence the size of the present class. I hope that from your midst will nevertheless spring a famous poet, a useful politician, a reformer of bebop, plenty of successful businessmen and efficient housewives, a pitcher who never allows a hit, and a hundred per cent of good citizens. The best of luck to you all!

One lingering glance o'er faces so dear,
One remembered sigh, one remembered tear,
Dear friends ever true, entwining of fates,
Experiences shared, the parties and dates,
The mingling of laughter, of voices recalled,
These memories our hearts forever have walked.

Dear Diary,

At last we are in high school! We felt a little strange at first but kind 1A's are helpful with directions. Wonder why we always find ourselves down in the basement?

A report has been assigned on a vocation for occupations class. The future is so hazy; we don't know what we want to do. We made a field trip in Miss Odell's General Science class. How odd the boys looked chasing butterflies with nets! The Music Revue was very beautiful. Proudly we watched our band, orchestra, and twirlers, and hoped to be part of them some day. We bought our season ticket to the football games. If only we might win the Thanksgiving Game against Hillside High this year! A banking system is being inaugurated in Weequahic this term. We'll deposit whatever's left of our allowance by Thursday morning. Rumors are abroad that the Board of Education is starting radio station WBGO, to be built at Central High. Perhaps we're all future Helen Hayeses. "Career Day" consisted of talks on vocations by prominent personalities in the various fields. This was a new program and we think the experiment was successful. At least we missed our morning classes. With memories of ballerina skirts and gold shoes, enthusiastic football rallies, and destructive water pistols, we advance happily to the school on the hill.

ARLENE MINTZ

Dear Diary,

It's all so terribly confusing! The stairways have one-way traffic; there's a mysterious swimming pool somewhere; and elevator passes are sold in the black market. We present a pitiful spectacle as we run to classes in Chancellor in the wintertime.

The student body took a two-hour exam in social sciences that will be compared with results of similar tests throughout the country. We never realized how little we knew of world affairs. Hopeful ingenues Barbara Sender, Jane Seid, Eleanor Schmerel, and Ruth Fleischer participated in tryouts for admittance to the twirling squad and were successful.

Music while we eat! Now they've installed a loud speaker system over which we're serenaded during our favorite period—lunchtime, of course. Personally, we don't think the system is very successful. A swimming team has been organized in Weequahic. We hope the boys are victorious; it might gain some prestige for us in the field of sports. The girls in the sewing department presented a fashion show in May. Some of the costumes were very attractive and novice models Jane Seid, Elaine Goldstein, Mae Tester, June Selesner, and Marilyn Samuels made a pretty picture. A recent addition to the sports department of our school is the fencing team. Perhaps the boys will henceforth duel for their lady fair!

Dear Diary,

Our school looks very smart with her new paint job. Imagine history in a blue room, English in a beige room, and French in a pink atmosphere. We watch expectantly the progress on the stadium being built in Untermann field.

We were treated to a comical French play this term and the very dramatic "Ile," starring Marcia Blumberg. Both showed Weequahic talent to advantage. We were thrilled by a General Motors assembly showing miracles of science. Colors flashed magically through a darkened auditorium and an egg was boiled by "cold heat." At another assembly, Howard Russell, the famous war hero, spoke to the group. The trip some of us took to the United Nations at Flushing Meadows was a memorable event. A student delegation met President Truman at the height of his campaign and this may have inspired our O. B. A. to the extent that at our next election, O. B. A. candidates Barry Kolton and Elaine Kaplan made campaign speeches in school assemblies. Leading the class in our junior year was president Norman Krueger. The Freedom Train, with its significant documents of history, arrived in Newark this term. Many of us were excused from school to view the display. Barry Kolton and Elaine Kaplan, our representatives from Weequahic, attended an Interscholastic Council to promote friendly relations among Newark schools. We look forward to future interscholastic events.

ARLENE MINTZ

Dear Diary,

1949

Seniors at last! How superior we feel as upperclassmen! Members of our class assumed leadership of the "Calumet" with Bob Lapidus as editor-in-chief, Shirly Pollack as news editor, and featured columns by Aaron Blumenfeld and Alvin Picker.

We'll never forget the solemn Memorial Day program honoring the boys from Weequahic who so valiantly gave their lives in the second world war. We were honored by a plaque presented by Rutgers University for the scholastic achievement of Robert Brunner, a former student of Weequahic. Bands from various schools performed in a June Festival at Untermann Stadium. Among the performers were Howard Lunin and Marty Weich. Torch Day, with Barry Kolton, Arlene Mintz, and George LaBar participating in the traditional ceremonies, was very impressive and caused many of us to pause and think seriously for a moment of our high school careers and future plans. We had a wonderful time at our 4B-4A Hop, on Treasure Island and were delighted at the gala occasion of our prom in the atmosphere of a "Winter Wonderland." Class presidents in this last year were Larry Friedman and George LaBar.

The grand finale to the past four years was our graduation where Rolf Kahn presented the valedictory speech and Arlene Mintz gave the salutatory address. The splendor of achieved success created the climax of our high school career. Proud, hopeful, and mature, we embark on our voyage through life.

CHORAL ODE

"It is sweet and fitting to die for one's native land. Death pursues the coward, nor do his flying heels and frightened back help him to escape. But courage, scorning base defeat, shines forth with unsullied honor, and is steadfast in challenging the foe, needless of the fickle voice of the rabble."

HORACE

Mingled with happier memories of high school is a day important to our growth toward maturity, a day of realization of the sorrows that come in the wake of war. It was a day of sadness and yet great honor. On May 29, 1949, a Memorial Day Program was dedicated to the memory of Weequahic High School students and graduates who gave their lives to their country during World War II. Reverend Northwood delivered a prayer for the dead to the hushed assemblage. The mood of the audience was tuned to the solemnity of the day as selections including "Invictus" and "Choral Ode" were sung by the glee club. After other ceremonies, guests and parents of the war dead proceeded to the front corridor. Amidst a crowd immersed in the depths of their memories, Dr. John Herron delivered an address as he unveiled the bronze tablet of dedication. The names of Weequahic's war heroes shone forth as the benediction was delivered. After a moment of silent prayer, guests were invited to visit the memorial trees and plaques in the Stadium. We of the graduating class of 1950 were proud to have witnessed this program and pay homage to the valiant ones.

Sports History

"Yea team! Fight, team, fight!"

Thus we recall the spirit and the sportsmanship that strove for victory. And as we scan our scrapbook's pictures of the boys who won fame on the athletic fields, we proudly recall the achievements of these boys.

BASEBALL:

Of Weequahic's baseball nine, under the direction of Charles Schneider, four lettermen are among the graduates. Barry Kolton, who performed very capably at first base on both the defense and offense, has been a varsity member for two years. Norman Krueger, a popular player on playground teams, will be missing from this year's pitching staff. Don Kaufman has proved to be an effective hurler in his two years of twirling, and Fred (Whitey) Cortright played fine ball both behind and along side of home plate.

BASKETBALL:

Though the Indian's cage squad failed to retain its City League championship, Coach Henry Donn has high hopes for his charges this year, despite the graduation of Marty Weich, one of the team's stellar performers and a fine player to have under the backboards.

CROSS-COUNTRY AND TRACK:

Our cross-country and track teams hit the cinder path last year with a fair amount of success. Coaches William Rose and William Hofer have been successful in bringing their squads along. The only cross-country letterman to don the cap and gown is Sid Handler who captained the team in his final year. Leaving the track squad are Sandy Goldberg, who turned in sterling performances in the 100-yard and 200-yard dashes and the pole vault events, and Herman "Babe" Berg, who developed fast at the close of the season in the javelin throw and the high hurdle events.

SWIMMING:

The swimming team, coached by "Skippy" Stein, which placed second in The City Meet during the 1948-49 season, was aided greatly by the services of Larry Tomasula. He excelled in the 100-yard backstroke and the 120-yard medley relay, winning letters in both his years on the team. Sandy Simon gave a creditable showing as a 220-yard free styler, besides working at the manager's post during the 1947-1948 campaign. Elvin Zieder proved to be one of the Indian's top 40-yard freestylers. Frank Dondershine earned his "W" by participating in the freestyle relay and handling chores. By earning a letter in the 100-yard backstroke, Sheldon Sattler proved his ability.

BOXING AND FENCING:

Weequahic's Golden Glove tournaments, directed by Charles Schneider, produced many promising pugilists. Al Klein won all three bouts in which he participated. Don Dvorin, Dave Bornstein, Neil Feins, Joel Rand, and Shelley Weinstein all received letters for their victories. Our fencing team, coached by Harry Boutsakaris, placed third in the state in 1947, winning ten and losing only one duel in city competition. Marvin Stoloff helped greatly in attaining this record.

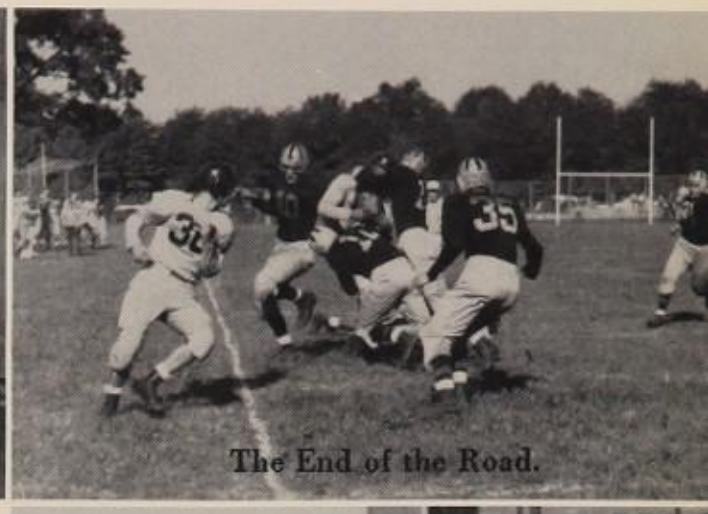
FOOTBALL:

The gridiron eleven was coached by Lou Stammelman who replaced Lou "Bucky" Harris in 1949. The spirit, hustle, and potential power of the squad gave every indication of a long-awaited improvement in Weequahic's football team. Missing from next year's team will be Sandy Goldberg, who played both guard and fullback. As the team's co-captain he earned his letter for his fine backfield work. Jack Lieberman performed capably at a halfback post and starred as the team's extra-point kicker. Gerry Safier captained the squad and switched from his 1948 quarterback position to end in 1949 to score the team's first two touchdowns of the season.

Our Stadium

The Kickoff.

Our Coaches.

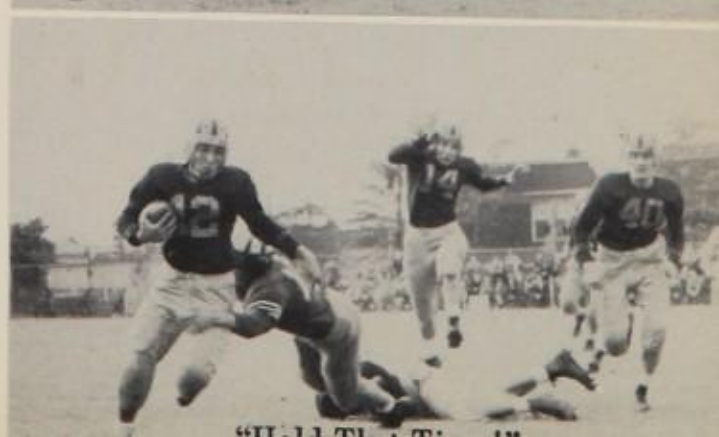


The End of the Road.

"Fight Team Fight!"

The Bench.

The Color Guard.



A fanfare of trumpets, a thunderclap of drums, and the Orange and Brown stepped out on the field. Amid the brassy blare and thrills of another football season, Weequahic's colors came to a pause. On October the fifteenth, 1949, Untermann Stadium was solemnly dedicated, dedicated not only to the distinguished judge and citizen after whom it is named, but dedicated to and hallowed by those of Weequahic who had given their lives in the battle for freedom.

Just eighteen months before, the site of the proud stadium was a wind-blown, rock-studded sand lot. But on the first Saturday of the autumn season of 1949, an overflowing crowd of six thousand exuberant spectators pressed into the grandstands as the familiar figure of Principal Herzberg officially opened the stadium by making the season's opening kickoff. The multitude watched as the gridiron warriors trampled upon the virgin turf; the autumn sun splashed brightly in the stands; and the bands and cheerleaders performed studied routines. This event signified the start of a new era for Weequahic athletics in Newark's newest and finest sports center.

To the thousands who were there, to our classmates both on the playing field and in the stands, went the pride of being part of the moment, part of the thrills and groans, victories and defeats of Weequahic's new addition to the tribal grounds.

Farewell

As the strains of the last dance fade away,
And the closing doors of Weequahic say goodbye,
We leave behind us our high school years,
Leaving the glory, the doubts, our carefree hearts,
Leaving what was familiar and so important,
Achieving appreciation of life's values.
Leaving all scenes so dear, we say farewell,
Farewell, our school of fondest memories.

1079 BERGEN STREET
(Corner Lyons Avenue)
NEWARK 8, NEW JERSEY

Saving at Weequahic's Thrift and Home Financing Institution Gives 4 Advantages

1. MAXIMUM EARNING POWER for your savings consistent with high degree safety.
2. INSURED SAFETY. Each investor's funds are insured safe at $5,000 and further protected by this institution's growing reserves and the fundamental safety of monthly repayable first mortgages principally on residential property.
3. UNUSUAL CONVENIENCE of saving any amount any time without bother of complicated investment procedures.
4. USUAL WITHDRAWAL PRIVILEGES afforded long-term savings, in accordance with established policies.

ENTHUSIASM
THRIFT

Saving for the future makes life more interesting—heightens ambition to succeed—promotes self respect—opens the way to higher education and better business prospects. It is an invaluable aid to good citizenship. Enthusiasm for thrift paves the way for a successful future.

"Simplicity of character is no hindrance to subtlety of intellect." Irving Wallock

Dear Lainie,

With all the success in the world, loads of happyness, and may all your wishes come true!

With all my love

Pat

P.S. Be good in the future.

Loads of loads and luck to my favorite jelly bean. How you ever graduated will always be a deep mystery. I think you're great, though, Lainie.

Remember me when you're in California and in the movies. I knew you when.

What's the scoop, droop?

All the success, luck, and happiness you deserve, which is an awful lot.
